Benefits of Parks and Recreation
Enhances the community's physical, emotional and social health

Builds community and sustains social equity

Promotes the arts and diverse cultural programs

Connects the community to wellness, the outdoors, and lifelong learning
Contributes to economic growth

Provides opportunities for youth and children to learn through play and engage in educational activities

Contributes to economic growth

Creates an opportunity for intentional community revitalization

Creates more fun and enhances the overall quality of life